

CALL FOR APPLICANTS

10-MONTH PROFESSIONAL TRAINING COURSE

Social Aspects of Sustainable Natural Resource Management

2020 Course, Yaoundé, Republic of Cameroon

Become trained as a Social Practitioner by international experts!

Companies, communities and governments need help advancing concrete solutions for the responsible management of natural resources and supply chains. This CSE course will give you the best practices, methods and theory needed to advance participatory engagement and problem solving.

COURSE CONTENT

- Conflict management & communication
- Socio-economic studies & surveys
- Certification systems & supply chains
- Ethnology & anthropology
- Identification of community-based projects
- Participatory mapping
- Free, Prior & Informed Consent (FPIC)
- Forest & agricultural legislation

WHY APPLY?

- Course is FREE!
- Application is FREE!
- Trained social practitioners are in high demand by companies across the region.
- 90% of CSE graduates are employed today, many working for international companies.
- Graduates join a dynamic network of elite social practitioners for career-long learning and sharing.

MORE INFORMATION

- bit.ly/CSEAfrica
- cse.team@earthworm.org

APPLICATION

- Who is eligible: Graduates from Central and West Africa in Social Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Forestry, Agronomy, Sustainable Development
- Application form & instructions: bit.ly/CSEAfrica
- Course sponsor: Department for International Development (DFID) is funding this unique opportunity. <http://www.gov.uk>

APPLICATION DEADLINE: December 08, 2019

DATE & LOCATION

● March – December 2020

Course sessions at the CSE site in Yaoundé, Cameroon followed by internship in companies across Africa

James,
2013 CSE
Alumni

Melvis,
2015 CSE
Alumni